HAIL, WEST VIRGINIA!

A Handbook on Tradition, Organizations, And Procedures for Freshmen at West Virginia University

Published by the Freshman Traditions Committee of Student Administration, West Virginia University; Student Body President, David C. Hardesty, Jr., and the Student Body Vice-president, Sarah Ruth Meek. Printed in cooperation with the Student Programs Division, James V. Watkins, Director, and the University Administration, Harry B. Heflin, Acting President.

Office of Publications

FROM THE PRESIDENT:

It is a pleasure to welcome you to West Virginia University and to extend to each of you my best wishes for success in your courses of study.

I hope you will understand from the very beginning that the burden of learning is on your shoulders. We shall help and guide you by providing teachers, counselors, libraries, laboratories and the like, but the ultimate responsibility for gaining and applying knowledge is yours alone.

Dr. Harry B. Heflin

You should find that the years spent in the University are among the most influential of your life. Beliefs you have cherished since childhood will be shaken. Your intellectual foundation will be challenged. This is all a central purpose of the University experience, because stimulating teaching, discussions with other students, the intellectual quality of the campus, shall intensify your desire to understand. For this great adventure you will have all the freedom you need—so much freedom that you should learn to budget your time wisely.

Your work is cut out for you. May you plunge into it with diligence, all the while knowing that the wise use of knowledge is the basis for the most worthwhile endeavors of man.

Sincerely yours,

HISTORY

West Virginia University was founded as a result of the Congressional Land Grant (Morrill) Act of 1862 which provided federal lands for colleges teaching agriculture and mechanical arts. Congress specifically extended the benefits of the act to West Virginia in 1864.

On January 9, 1866, the trustees of Monongalia Academy offered its property, including the site and property of Woodburn Female Seminary, to the state on condition that a proposed college "be located permanently at or near Morgantown". The State Legislature accepted the offer and established the "Agricultural College of West Virginia" on February 7, 1867. On December 4, 1868, the Legislature changed the name of the Agricultural College to "West Virginia University".

In 1927, an act vested control of the University's academic matters in a 7-man Board of Governors. The Board, increased to 9 members in 1947, is still the University's governing body.

Since its founding, West Virginia University has grown into an institution of over twelve thousand students enrolled in fifteen schools and colleges. And, from an original plot of land around Monongalia Academy, the University has progressed into one of the largest physical plants of its kind in the East. It extends over an area of 600 acres. In addition, the University owns and manages 11,000 acres in experimental farms, forests, and educational camps throughout the state.

DOWNTOWN CAMPUS

As a freshman, you will be taking many of your classes on the Downtown Campus. It is the center of University activity, for on it are located the administrative offices, the Main Library, dormitory space, the Mountainlair, the Field House, and most of the classroom buildings.

The Downtown Campus consists of approximately 75 acres, much of which overlooks the Monongahela River. The oldest existing structure on the Downtown Campus is Martin Hall, built in 1870. The most recent construction includes the new Mountainlair, scheduled to be completed in 1967, and a new Chemistry Annex which will soon be under construction.

MEDICAL CENTER CAMPUS

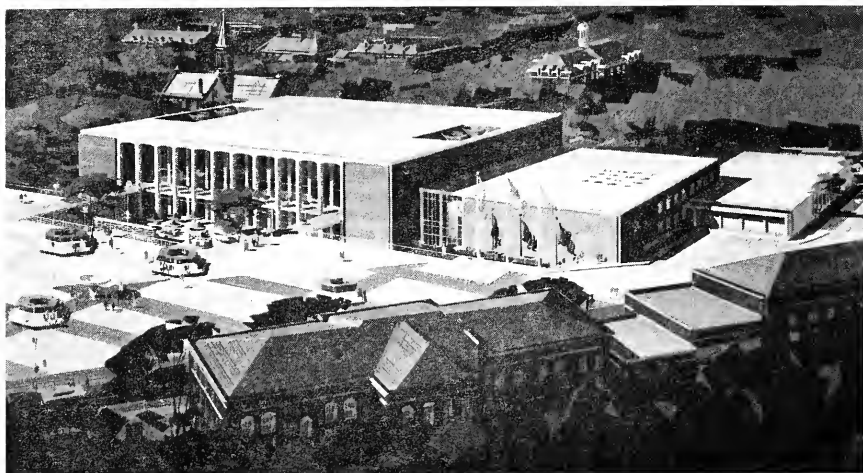

The Medical Center Campus covers an area of approximately 222 acres. It's located about two miles from the Downtown Campus. Situated there are the Basic Sciences Building and the University Hospital. The Medical Center houses the schools of Dentistry, Medicine, Nursing, and Pharmacy. Also housed there is the 67,000-volume Medical Center Library containing an outstanding collection of books and periodicals on the health sciences.

EVANSDALE CAMPUS

The Evansdale Campus will be the scene of most of the expansion planned by the University in the years ahead. Located about a mile from the Downtown Campus, it now houses the modern buildings of the College of Agriculture and Forestry and the College of Engineering. In addition, the newly-constructed Twin Towers dormitories are found there. Future years will see this campus as the site of the ultra-modern Creative Arts Center, now under construction, and the Field House, scheduled to be built near Hawley Field.

The next four years will be a period of rapid growth for the University as it expands its physical plant to accommodate an ever-increasing enrollment and revises the curricula to broaden the intellectual and cultural horizons of the Student Body. You will be an eyewitness to many of these changes. Before you don your cap and gown, you will see the completion of construction of the new Creative Arts Center Building on the Evansdale Campus and the completion of the new Mountainlair. Construction of the new Chemistry Building Annex will be underway by the time you begin classes. Other planned expansion will be realized or at least begun before your undergraduate days are over.

Expanding facilities will enable the University to provide even better educational opportunities for both students and faculty. This new construction enhances the outstanding tradition of West Virginia University as a modern institution of higher education.

CENTENNIAL

UNIVERSITY CENTENNIAL

West Virginia University's 100th Anniversary observance will begin on February 7, 1967 and will extend for a full year, or until February 7, 1968. The entire observance will have a heavy flavor of academic, cultural, and campus-centered activities, a few of which will begin of a pilot basis this fall.

Those who have been planning the observance for the past 18 months agreed early in their deliberations on certain principles:

1. The observance was not to be the usual "looking backward with pride and forward with confidence" type of program; it was, instead, to be built around some significant principle of education in today's world, with as many of its events as practicable tied to that principle or theme.

2. The observance was not to be of a carnival nature; it was felt that the event was serious enough to merit serious treatment.

3. The observance was to have a small number of specific aims; and any event, to merit inclusion on the anniversary calendar, should meet one or more of those aims.

Working against this background, the planning group developed a theme designed to focus attention on what it feels to be one of the pressing concerns of educators today. At a moment in history when the emphasis is on the accumulation, multiplication, and changing nature of knowledge, there is much fear that we may become so enamored of knowledge that we may fail to distill lasting benefit from it. The theme states this concisely: "Through Changing Knowledge to Enduring Wisdom."

As its aims, the group selected two:

- A. To make the people of West Virginia aware that at their State University, they have a collection of highly-trained persons who are ready and willing to help the citizenry of the State in its every-day life and problems.

B. To make the Student Body and faculty of the University aware of their own quality, and especially, to make them appreciative of their colleagues.

Five symposia—ranging from the frontiers of science to man's concern with religion—will be the highlights of the year. A half-dozen seminars of all phases of higher education, especially as they apply to the W.V.U. of the next decade; a dozen special convocations, featuring world leaders in various fields of knowledge; a dozen cultural programs; a series of lectures by outstanding professors; a series of trips for new faculty members and their families; and an anniversary flavor for traditional affairs—Alumni Day, Pitt Weekend, Commencement, and Thanksgiving; these are among the highlights.

A calendar will appear early this fall, listing the dates of all major events during the next 18 months. You won't want to miss one!

(University Centennial Coordinator)

STUDENT ADMINISTRATION

To the Class of 1970:

Student governments have traditionally been a part of college life in the United States. However, in recent years, they have suffered much criticism for being void of purpose.

David C. Hardesty, Jr.

West Virginia University is proud to announce after four years of research and planning, a sound, continuous, and effective Student Administration. It is designed to do more than the traditional duties of many campus governments. Meeting the real needs of the Student Body, Student Administration is involved in every aspect of campus life. It plans campus-wide activities, coordinates our student programs, and represents our interests in the University Community.

In the following pages, you will find an outline of your Student Administration, and it is necessary for every student to become acquainted with the framework. But it is vital that the Class of 1970 add their knowledge and enthusiasm to campus activities, and in that way, participate in the growth of the West Virginia University Community.

Student Body President

CABINET

The Cabinet acts as a central coordinating device for campus activities and projects. It is made up of representatives of major campus organizations and advisors. Represented are Associated Women Students, Pan-hellenic Council, Inter-Fraternity Council, religious organizations, dormitories, Mountainlair, Cosmopolitan Club, and the Daily Athenaeum. The Cabinet is chaired by the Student Body President and Vice-president. Ex officio members represent Legislature and the Academic Forum.

EXECUTIVE COUNCIL

The Executive Council is the administrative branch of Student Administration—it makes sure the day-to-day work of student government is carried on. It also plays an important role in initiating policy and new programs and supervises the committee system. The Executive Council is made up of the President and Vice-president of the Student Body and the Presidents and Vice-presidents of all four classes.

LEGISLATURE

Student Legislature is the policy-making branch of Student Administration. It passes on appointments made by the Executive Council, determines the Statutory Code, appropriates Student Administration funds, and reviews reports of committees and organizations under its jurisdiction. Its membership is composed of representatives of all schools and colleges on the basis of population percentages.

ACADEMIC STUDY BRANCH

The Academic Study Branch of Student Administration completed its first year of operation during 1965-66. The purpose of this branch is the voicing of student opinion concerning academic matters and for use in administrative planning. The Academic Study Branch consists of a committee in each school and college, an Academic Forum, and the Provost's Academic Study Committee.

STUDENT COURT

The Student Court is presently composed of seven justices who are all members of the Student Body. The court system, however, is now under intensive study by a joint University-Student Administration Committee to alter its structure and function. The report will be presented in January, 1967.

STUDENT ADMINISTRATION CIVIL SERVICE SYSTEM

The Civil Service System is one of the most important areas of Student Administration because it forms the basis of the entire Student Administration structure. This is the place where all freshmen and transfer students will begin their work in Student Administration. In the fall and spring, application cards, commonly called Civil Service cards, and Student Administration Handbooks are available at the Student Administration Office in the Mountainlair. Interested students complete their application cards and deliver them to the Student Administration Office, Elizabeth Moore Hall, or the main desk at Twin Towers. Chairmen and coordinators select their committees from a master list of those applying for committee appointment. For your convenience, an official Civil Service Information Card is printed on the back of this page. If you are interested in working on any of the committees listed below, fill out the card and turn it in at any of the places named above. We sincerely hope that you will investigate your place in Student Administration. We'll be glad to have you!

FRESHMAN ELECTIONS

To the Class of 1970:

As President of the Freshman Class of West Virginia University until your new officers take over in October, I welcome you, the ninety-ninth W.V.U. Freshman Class, to our campus.

One important tradition of University freshmen is the selection of a class President and Vice-president. These two officers are the official representatives of your class. The election will take place during the second month of your first semester. This process consists of three phases:

1. Each candidate for either President or Vice-president must file at the Student Administration Office a petition containing the signatures of 5 per cent of the Freshman Class (about 170 names). These petitions entitle candidates to run in the primary election.

2. The primary election will narrow the field of candidates to two persons for each of the two offices.

3. A final general election will be held several days after the primary.

Campaigning may take place during any of these three stages, but each candidate is limited to a total of no more than $10.00 in campaign expenses. Freshman elections are not associated with campus political parties. Voting polls will be located all over the campus.

It is my hope and that of Vice-president John Cushard that you will participate in your Student Administration if not as a candidate, then as a campaign worker and voter.

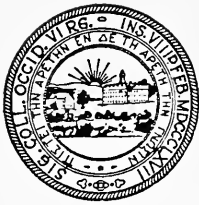

Best wishes for your success the next four years at West Virginia University.

FRESHMAN TRADITIONS

THE FRESHMAN BEANIE AND FRESHMAN REGULATIONS

The Freshman Beanie has long been one of the most respected freshman traditions at West Virginia University. Women's beanies are white and men's are blue and gold. Both have your year of graduation, 1970, embroidered on the cap. ALL FRESHMEN ARE REQUIRED TO PURCHASE AND WEAR A FRESHMAN BEANIE. They are available in dormitories and at various other places around the campus. The price is a dollar and a quarter, a fifty cent reduction from last year's cost.

In past years, freshman have been required to follow a complicated set of freshman rules. This year a competent group of upperclassmen and administrators have formulated the following regulations concerning Freshman Traditions.

1. ALL FRESHMEN MUST WEAR BEANIES ON CAMPUS DURING THE FIRST WEEK OF CLASSES, SEPTEMBER 5 THROUGH 10. (Beanies are not to be worn inside buildings or off campus. They may be purchased on Friday, September 2; Saturday, September 3 and Monday, September 5.)
2. ALL FRESHMEN MUST LEARN THE THREE UNIVERSITY SONGS ON THE OPPOSITE PAGE FOR USE AT ATHLETIC GAMES.
3. FRESHMEN MUST ATTEND ALL THUSES AND WEAR THEIR BEANIES AT THE FIRST ONE ON SEPTEMBER 23. DATES, TIMES, AND PLACES FOR THE THUSES WILL BE ANNOUNCED IN THE DAILY ATHENAEUM.
4. FRESHMEN MUST WEAR THEIR BEANIES TO THE FIRST FOOTBALL GAME AGAINST WILLIAM AND MARY ON SEPTEMBER 24. AT THE FIRST W.V.U. TOUCHDOWN, TOSS YOUR CAPS INTO THE AIR AS A TRIBUTE TO THE FINE TRADITION OF ATHLETICS AT THE UNIVERSITY.

Your Freshman Beanies symbolize your entrance into the spirit and enthusiasm of the Home of the Mountaineers, West Virginia University. Wear yours proudly!

A TIP TO NEW MOUNTAINEERS FROM THE COACHES:

As Head Coaches for the Mountaineer football and basketball teams, we wish to thank you in advance for your attendance and enthusiasm at games and thuses. Freshmen have long supported intercollegiate athletics at W.V.U. We are certain all of you will enjoy and learn from your initial campus orientation and activities. We look forward to seeing you with your caps at thuses and ball games.

We wish you the best of luck in your years at West Virginia University.

Jim Carlen, Head Coach
Mountaineer Football Team

Bucky Waters, Head Coach
Mountaineer Basketabll Team

SONGS

ALMA MATER

Alma, our Alma Mater, the home of the Mountaineers;
Sing we of thy honor, everlasting through the years,
Alma, our Alma Mater, we pledge in song to you;
Hail, all hail our Alma Mater, West Virginia "U".

HAIL, WEST VIRGINIA!

Let's give a rah for West Virginia, and let us pledge to her anew;
Others may like black or crimson, but for us it's Gold and Blue.
Let all our troubles be forgotten, let college spirit rule;
We'll join and give our loyal efforts for the good of our old school.
It's West Virginia, it's West Virginia, the pride of every Mountaineer;
Come on you old grads, join with us young lads, it's West Virginia now
we cheer (rah! rah!),
Now is the time boys, to make a big noise, no matter what the people say;
For there is naught to fear, the gang's all here, so hail to West Virginia, hail!

THE FIGHT SONG

Fight, fight, fight, fight Mountaineers, we're here to cheer for you;
Take that old ball down the field, we're putting all our faith in you.
Take that team right off its feet, you can't be beat, we know;
And, when the game is through, we'll all cheer you,
West Virginia, West Virginia, Rah!

CAMPUS TRADITIONS

THE MOUNTAINEER

The frontier-clad fellow that you'll see at W.V.U. sports events is the University's official symbol—the Mountaineer. He's attired in the traditional garb of a mountain man 200 years ago, complete with coon-skin cap and Kentucky long rifle. For the 1966-67 school year, Ken Fonville, marketing senior, will serve in the traditional post. The Mountaineer has long been the rallying point for cheers that lead W.V.U. athletic teams to victory. 6'5" Ken, who comes from South Charleston, was chosen on the basis of grades, service to the University, and enthusiasm by Mountain, ranking men's honorary, the sponsor of the Mountaineer. You'll recall many years of tradition, symbolizing our forefathers struggles to build this state, each time you hear the boom of the Mountaineer's rifle.

THE MAST

The Mast of the U.S.S. West Virginia is located on the Memorial Plaza in front of Oglebay Hall. The Mast was erected several years ago as a memorial to the ship sunk at Pearl Harbor on December 7, 1941. It stands as a symbol of the traditional courage of West Virginians. The Plaza is used for thuses, outdoor concerts, and other student events.

CHEERLEADERS

You'll soon be meeting the University cheerleaders—and they'll be depending on you as freshmen to help pep things up during this year's home football and basketball games and other sporting events. Early in the fall you will have an opportunity to try out for the freshman cheering squad chosen by a committee from the School of Physical Education. Cheerleaders for this year are Bev Osborne, captain, of Charleston; Susan Barnes, co-captain, of Rices Landing, Pennsylvania; Carol Troilo of Connellsville, Pennsylvania; Lynn Plummer of Wheeling; Susan White of Charleston; former Miss West Virginia Gay Ratcliffe of Bluefield; Diana Talkington of Fairmont; Sally Storck of Vienna; and Betsy Burmeister of Williamson. Miss Kitty Blakemore, Assistant Professor in the School of Physical Education, advises this group.

THE MOUNTAINEER MARCHING BAND

The Mountaineer Marching Band, led by Drum Major Eric Lee of Follansbee, is an inspiration in the school-spirit department. The marching band, traditionally made up of about one hundred freshman and upper-class men, performs at all home University football games both at half-time and before and after each game. In addition, the band travels with the football team to one major away game each season and performs at thuses and pep rallies. During basketball season, the band organizes a cheering section for the W.V.U. Mountaineer cagers. You'll also see the band in several parades. Any male student may register for band with or without credit; about 50 per cent of the members are non-music majors. This year the band will be raising money for new uniforms. Their director is Budd A. Udell of the School of Music.

UNIVERSITY PUBLICATIONS.

The Daily Athenaeum, official campus student newspaper, is published Tuesday through Friday mornings and on Saturdays of major University weekends. Copies will be found in distribution boxes near the main entrances to all University classroom buildings and dormitories. It carries state and national-international news services. In addition, you'll keep informed of all campus activities including everything from a President's proclamation to the meeting dates of a certain organization. Merideth Robb of Weirton is the Editor-in-Chief. His Managing Editor is Jeff Windholz of Martinsburg. Be sure to pick up your D.A. each morning.

The Monticola is the official year book of West Virginia University. You can reserve your copy at registration or at the University Bookstore any time during the first semester. The Monticola is distributed each spring about Commencement time. While departmental editors have already been appointed, there is always room on the staff for interested freshmen and transfer students. Editor-in-chief of the 1967 Monticola is Bettijane Christopher of Morgantown.

HOMECOMING

Always one of the biggest events of the year is Homecoming at West Virginia University. This year the celebration will center around the football contest with rival Kentucky on October 29. The traditional activities begin with balloting for Homecoming Queen. All eleven campus sororities and all five women's dormitories nominate a candidate. Then, all registered full-time students vote to select a queen and two attendants. In addition, two freshman princesses are chosen from applicants by the freshman class in an election.

On Friday of Homecoming Weekend, a gigantic parade is held on the streets of Morgantown. Local bands and other entries are invited. And, all the queen candidates are presented riding in the parade. The Homecoming Queen, her two attendants, and the two freshman princesses ride on a special queen's float. In addition, fraternities and sororities team up to build floats portraying the theme of Homecoming. Winners in this competition and in the dormitory decoration contests are announced at an informal dance after the parade.

Football takes the spotlight on Saturday as the Mountaineers meet Kentucky. The game is highlighted by the crowning of the Queen and her court and a special half-time show by the Mountaineer Marching Band. After the game, most dormitories and fraternity and sorority houses hold open-house receptions for parents and other visitors to the campus. That evening an elegant Homecoming Dance is held.

This is just a short outline of the many activities that make up Homecoming Weekend at W.V.U. In the words of 1965-66 Student Body President John Cain, "With an eye on the future, we pause each year to welcome back alumni and friends, and to pay tribute to our historic past."

MOUNTAINEER WEEKEND

The annual observance of Mountaineer Weekend is dedicated to the spirit of the pioneers who opened up this country over 200 years ago, and to the remains of a heritage that dwells in our sturdy, native Mountaineers. The weekend is highlighted by the West Virginia-Syracuse football game. Also, as part of the festivities, a "Mr. and Miss Mountaineer" are selected from outstanding seniors. Other special events including festivities for students and visitors are under the direction of the Mountainlair Program Council.

PARENTS WEEKEND

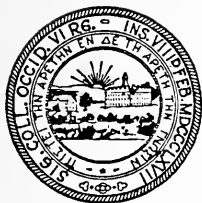

This will be the first year for Parents' Weekend, although for the last two years a Fathers' Weekend has been held. This year, Parents' Weekend will be held at the time of the Penn State home football game. The game will feature the parents of Mountaineer football players. In addition, your parents will be able to get special prices on tickets for this big game. Parents' Weekend will continue as a tradition of the University with the purpose of honoring parents of all W.V.U. students. The festivities are under the direction of Associated Women Students.

SPRINGSFREE WEEKEND

Springsfree Weekend is a March event that begins the spring season at W.V.U. It is planned by the Mountainlair Program Council. Traditional events include a carnival at which many campus organizations sponsor booths and a dance. One original organization last year presented a contest entitled "Race-a-Roach". Proceeds from Springsfree are donated to the University Loan Fund.

LINK DAY

Link Day is the annual ceremony held in early May when all the class honoraries tap and initiate their new members. Participating in the colorful event are freshman honoraries Li-Toon-Awa and Helvitia; and upperclass honoraries Chimes, Order of the Grail, Mortor Board, and Sphinx. The event, open to parents and visitors, is held each year on the Library Terrace.

ATHLETIC TRADITIONS

Athletics at West Virginia University is as much a part of Campus tradition as the Mountaineer himself. Hundreds of thousands of W.V.U. students have cheered Mountaineer teams for almost as many years as the University has been in existence. Right now, W.V.U. participates in eleven varsity sports including baseball, basketball, football, golf, gymnastics, riflery, soccer, swimming, tennis, track, and wrestling. The University also has a competitive program of intramural sports open to all students.

As you can readily see, athletics touches upon many aspects of college life. As a proper introduction to this phase of W.V.U., we present "Whitey" Gwynne, the Mountaineer Head Trainer. We feel that "Whitey" personifies the spirit, drive, and dedication so evident in the tradition of University athletics.

Pennsylvania-born A. C. Gwynne attended W.V.U. as both an undergraduate and masters degree candidate. While a student, "Whitey" was captain of the wrestling team and a member of the varsity football squad. He was ultimately head wrestling coach and then an assistant trainer before being named Head Trainer after World War II. He is a retired Lieutenant Commander in the United States Navy. As a student, coach, and now trainer "Whitey" has been connected with W.V.U. for a total of 38 years.

A. C. "Whitey" Gwynne

The duties of the Head Trainer, according to "Whitey", concern the physical conditioning of all W.V.U. athletes. His work is performed under the supervision of the team physician.

In his position as Head Traifher, "Whitey" Gwynne has brought respect and honor to West Virginia University. He was recently inducted into the Helms Hall of Fame, a tribute reserved for few. He was President of the National Athletic Trainers Association and also aided the athletes at the Pan American Games in Sao Paulo, Brazil. In addition, "Whitey" toured Russia, Czechoslovakia, Poland, France, and England as a trainer for a basketball team sponsored by the U. S. State Department. He was the first to receive the Letterman's Club "Man of the Year" Award.

Looking back over past years at W.V.U., "Whitey" feels that without a doubt, Jerry West, famed Mountaineer cager, was the finest athlete he has ever worked with. Concerning future athletic prospects for the Mountaineers, "Whitey" stated that "with our new coaching staffs in football and basketball, we can't help but be on our way up." He also had bright predictions for the other W.V.U. varsity teams.

West Virginia University is proud to acknowledge the most respected, the most experienced, and the most successful trainer in the United States—A. C. "Whitey" Gwynne.

ORGANIZATIONS

The University's 120 student organizations provide environments which permit the individual to practice learned classroom skills "out-of the class."

Members engage in the exchange of feeling, attitudes, and information with other students and faculty. Participation stimulates discussion of professional philosophies and encourages activities that can be utilized as vehicles for creative personal growth and cultural-social relationships.

Organizational activities are coordinated with various colleges, Mountainlair, residence halls, local and state agencies, supportive academic units, and this division through Student Administrative and the Training-Finance branches.

Opportunities for developing management skills, for obtaining scientific research experiences, and for assisting with the evaluation or altering of the institution's educational mission are advantages of membership. Most of all, being apart of a viable student group is fun and academically supportive. It enables thought to be linked with purpose and produces intellectual accomplishments.

Student leaders cooperating with this office, began four years ago to re-organize our student governmental structure. We now have a student administration, designed to incorporate all agencies and organizations in support of the University's educational mission.

FRESHMAN HONORARIES

In the latter part of your second semester at W.V.U. you will be eligible for election to membership in either of the two sophomore class honoraries. These honoraries tap their members in early May and initiate them on Link Day, traditionally held in the first week or two of May.

Li-Toon-Awa is the official sophomore women's honorary at West Virginia University. It was established on this campus in the late 1920's. Li-Toon-Awa is an Indian word meaning "friendship". Its members are chosen on the basis of character, leadership, service, and scholarship. Its programs and projects are designed to honor outstanding freshman women and to help all freshmen women adjust to college life. Its projects include a Tee-Pee Tea for that group, a $100 scholarship for a deserving woman student, and the Highbrow Hen Party each spring for coeds with a 3.0 or higher average. This year's President of Li-Toon-Awa is Sally Cox of Wheeling.

Helvetia is the official sophomore men's honorary at West Virginia University. It was established on this campus in 1955. Helvetia derives its name from the native-tongue word for Switzerland, whose mountains are so like the beloved West Virginia hills and whose people were a hardy, freedom-loving lot. Members are selected on the qualities of leadership, service and scholarship. Freshmen who earn a 3.3 average are automatically considered and those making a 3.0 average are considered if recommended by the dean of a school or college or by a Helvetia member. Helvetia strives to render service to the University, promote high scholarship, develop leadership, and aid freshmen through an orientation program.

UPPERCLASS HONORARIES

The Order of the Grail, junior men's honorary was organized in 1962. Members are chosen on high academic standing and the self-discipline which such standing requires. The group takes its name from the Arthurian legends. Members of the Order of the Grail strive for ideals in conduct and carry out a never-ending quest for knowledge.

Chimes, junior women's honorary, chooses members on the fourfold basis of scholarship, leadership, character, and service. Members must have at least a 3.0 overall average. The group's members provide an important service in an orientation program for transfer students, sponsoring pre-convocation discussions, and serving as freshman guides.

Mortar Board, senior women's honorary, is the only national honorary for women on this campus. Established in 1924 as Laurel Chapter, the organization promotes fellowship and high academic standards among University women. Mortar Board presents achievement certificates to the top-ranking twenty-four women in the freshman class each year. Election to Mortar Board is one of the greatest honors a University woman can receive at W.V.U.

Sphinx, senior men's honorary, was established in 1909. Its members are chosen on the basis of academic proficiency, leadership in campus activities, and a sincere desire to serve fellow students. It honors the top ten freshman men whose first-semester grades entitle them to receive achievement certificates. In addition, the name of the top freshman from the preceding year is added each fall to the Colborn-Smith plaque in the Mountainlair.

Mountain is the highest honorary for men, dating back to 1904 at W.V.U. Its members include graduate students, seniors, and a few extra-select juniors. Newly "tapped" members wear a red bandanna to signify their new status in the organization. They also demonstrate the "Mountaineer Spirit" by trekking to the top of a mountain. The honorary sponsors the Mountaineer, the cheerleaders, and the Mountaineer Week Team.

Fi Batar Cappar, a mock honorary, was founded in 1911, and has served primarily as a "spirit" organization, being best known for directing thuses, aiding the cheerleaders at athletic contests, and, in general, contributing an indefinable, informal "something extra" to the campus scene. You'll recognize them by their long robes and canes at the thuses and games at W.V.U.

GREEK FRATERNITIES AND SORORITIES

All rushing of freshmen by the Greek groups has been deferred until the second semester. You will have ample opportunity to acquaint yourself with the aims, services and membership of these organizations, and to decide whether your academic and financial standing will permit your membership in one of these groups.

There are 18 fraternities and 11 sororities on the West Virginia University campus. Each has its own separate membership requirements and service projects. But there is a minimum grade point average that you must achieve before you can pledge . . . for men it's a 2.0 and for women it's a 2.2.

Meet the Greeks, a booklet published by the Interfraternity Council, is available to all men to inform them about each of the various fraternities on campus. The Interfraternity Council and the Panhellenic Council are the governing bodies for Greek social organizations on this campus. Both Presidents are members of the Student Administration Cabinet.

The Interfraternity Council is a self-governing body for the 18 national fraternities at the University. It makes the rules governing rushing practices, determines overall fraternity policy on such matters as allowing salesmen in fraternity houses and making donations to charitable institutions, sponsors a Christmas Party for Monongalia County's underprivileged children, and is the official spokesman for the fraternities in their relations with the University administration and campus groups. President is Alfred "Doc" Carter of Charleston. Adviser to this group is Gordon Thorn, Director of Financial Aids.

The Panhellenic Council is the women's equivalent of the Interfraternity Council. The Council is the official spokesman for the 11 sororities on campus. Its representatives can be found on every important committee that represents the whole Student Body. President is Shelia Sullivan of Charleston. Adviser to the Panhellenic Council is Mrs. Mary-Jane Schuster, Assistant Dean of Women.

RELIGIOUS FOUNDATIONS AND ASSOCIATIONS

Various state and national church boards have established foundations at the University for the religious education and nurture of students. The churches of Morgantown extend a warm welcome to students of all faiths.

The Baptist Student Movement at the University is located in the Student Center of the First Baptist Church, 432 High Street. It is sponsored by the American Baptist Convention, and the local church. The B.S.M. includes the Baptist Student Fellowship and the Married Student Fellowship. Their programs encompass church school classes, worship services, evening fellowships, and many other activities. The responsibility for these programs lie with the students and the pastor to students.

Newman Hall, 1481 University Avenue, is the social and religious center established by the West Virginia Diocese of the Roman Catholic Church for students of that and other faiths. Newman Hall is a beautiful building of English collegiate architecture immediately adjacent to the campus. It includes a dining room, lounge, game room, and library. The Paulist fathers are the resident chaplains.

The Disciple Student Foundation provides a program for Christian Church students attending the University. The Foundation is sponsored by the Department of Religious Education of the United Christian Missionary Society at Indianapolis, Ind., the Christian Churches of West Virginia and the First Christian Church at Morgantown. These three agencies function through a Student Work Advisory Committee. The First Christian Church is the center for Foundation activities and is located at Grand Street and Cobun Avenue.

Trinity Episcopal Church, at Spruce and Willey streets, is the center for student work sponsored by the Diocese of West Virginia of the Protestant Episcopal Church. This work is under the direction of the rector and the assistant rector. The program includes student worship services and meetings of the Canterbury Club, a chapter of the National Association of Canterbury Clubs, for discussion and fellowship. Canterbury Club meets in Strider Hall, located on the ground floor of Trinity Church.

The Greek Orthodox Youth of America conducts student activities at 447 Spruce Street.

The Hillel Foundation at the University, 505 Jefferson Street, represents the combined efforts of the West Virginia B'nai B'rith Lodges and of the National B'nai B'rith Hillel Foundation to bring the University's students together in religious, cultural, and social activities. Prominent lecturers and speakers are featured at regular intervals by the Foundation for the members of the group and for the general student body.

St. Paul Lutheran Church is the center of Lutheran student activities sponsored by the Student Service Commission of the National Lutheran Council, the Synod of West Virginia, and St. Paul Lutheran Church. The work is under the direction of the local pastor. The program includes regular services of the church and activities of the Lutheran Student Association.

Wesley Foundation at West Virginia University is housed in Wesley Methodist Church at 503 High Street and provides a worship and activities center for Methodist students in the University. Facilities are provided for worship, religious education, and fellowship. The students plan and execute the program of education, worship, fellowship, community service, settlement house missions, and other activities. Kappa Phi, Methodist women's club, and Sigma Theta Epsilon, Methodist men's fraternity, are sponsored by the Foundation.

The Westminister Foundation of West Virginia represents the co-operative efforts of the Boards of Christian Education and National Missions of the Presbyterian Church, U. S. A., the Synod of West Virginia of the Presbyterian Church, U. S., and the Presbytery of Winchester, to make the Christian religion a vital factor in the experiences of students and in the relationships which these students sustain while in the University; and also through guided Christian activities in the mine-camp communities surrounding Morgantown, to train among educated men and women future Christian statesmen. The work is under the direction of the student pastor.

The Student Youth Fellowship of the Evangelical United Brethern Church conducts student activities at the Church on Burroughs Street in The Flatts. The work is under the direction of the local pastor.

The Young Women's Christian Association is a nonsectarian fellowship of women of the University organized for the purpose of promoting and directing widely varied activities through a religious motive.

Student officers, student cabinets, boards composed of students, faculty, and townspeople, and an executive secretary direct the activities of the Y.W.C.A. The various committees, interest groups, and commissions provide not only their immediate ends, but also opportunity for fellowship and leadership training.

Other Churches, while not having special buildings or workers for University students, make definite contributions in ministering to the religious and social needs of students who belong to their particular faiths. College students are welcome in all the churches regardless of their church affiliations.
